10:00 AM - 11:30 am	Willie Jenkins: ~A~ "Tolkien and Escapism" In this Panel I will be discussing how Tolkien shaped my life and protected me from the harsh realities I was raised in. I will also talk about the difficulties people from my culture have getting into tolkien and why that is, but the undeniable fact of how they would relate with all things tolkien despite their fear of getting into it. (Will be repeated: Friday @ noon)	Meeting Rm D
10:30 am - 11:30 am	Shawn Short (Weapons Master): Weapons Demonstration details TBD	Outdoors
11:00 AM - 1:00 pm	William Ambrose: GAME Middle Earth Pathfinder "Raiders	Dancing Pony of the Lost Fortress" Middle-Earth Roll playing game Rumors are abound of the abandoned dark fortress deep within Mirkwood of a nameless evil. Are they just fanciful stories told by local bards to fill their coin purse or is there something more to the tall tales. BRING: Only your sense of humor!	The Dancing Pony Support Staff will be there to collect your Meal Tickets and bring you your lunchbag.

1:00 pm - 2:30 pm	Willie Jenkins: ~B~ "The Parentage of Gil-galad (A happy Accident)" In this Panel we will dive deep into the parentage of Gil-Galad as it appears in the Silmarillion and also the retcon. I will present what I feel is undeniable evidence on how Gil- galad works better as a character if he is left as Fingon's son. I will also delve into the anomaly of the happy accident that made it this way in the book and how Christopher Tolkien, who had the control to keep the change, should have left it that way. (Will be repeated: Saturday @ 10am)	Meeting Rm D

Denethor, Saruman, and Gwaihir the Eagle. The students are responsible for taking their character's parts and advocating for their interests in an un-scripted debate about the geopolitics of Middle-earth in light of the finding of the Ring. There have been some great moments in these debates: in 2008 I asked the student representing Saruman "What do you have to offer to Middle-earth?" and in an utterly deadpan voice he said: "Hope and Change." There was a short pause followed by mass laughter. In 2018, in response to the same question, the student representing Saruman said: "With the Ring I would build a BETTER Dark Tower The Best Dark Tower The BEST? I understand Dark Tower building probably better than anyone else in Middle-earth! And it would be the biggest, most beautiful Dark Tower EVER?"
